1. Declare your weapon at the border

When you arrive to Sweden, you should:

Go through the red lane (goods to declare).

Inform the Swedish Customs that you are bringing firearms and/or ammunition.

2. Fill in the declaration form

You need to fill in the form: "Tv.730.2 – Declaration for firearms and ammunition for hunting and competition".

It includes information such as: your personal details, the type of weapon, make and serial number, the amount of ammunition, and the purpose of importation (hunting/competition).

3. Show necessary documents

You need to be able to show: passport or ID, firearm license or equivalent documents from your home country, and possibly a competition or hunting invitation and the import permit issued by the Swedish police.

Once the declaration is complete, you may take the weapon into the country for: hunting, competition, and temporary stay.

You will also receive a copy of the declaration which you must keep.

When leaving Sweden again, you must return the copy of the declaration to the Customs at departure.

This shows that the weapon has been exported from Sweden again.
